

I am opposed to weakening Indiana's call privacy laws. I am well aware of the phone numbers of the companies that I have an established business relationship with. If a correspondence other than postal is necessary it can very well be initiated by the consumer.